THE LEAD STORY

MoHoHo parade registration extends to November 29

The organizer says entries now close Sunday at 5 p.m.; the City page and open form retain November 20.

City Recreation Coordinator Olivia Alvarez told Mountain House Live directly that MoHoHo parade entry registration is extended to Sunday, November 29 at 5 p.m. Pacific. MHL opened the exact organizer link without submitting it and confirmed it resolves to an open City Parks and Recreation form. The form still displays the older November 20 deadline, so this edition attributes the extension to the organizer.

City Recreation Coordinator Olivia Alvarez told Mountain House Live directly that MoHoHo parade entry registration is extended to Sunday, November 29 at 5 p.m. Pacific. MHL opened the exact organizer link without submitting it and confirmed it resolves to an open City Parks and Recreation form. The form still displays the older November 20 deadline, so this edition attributes the extension to the organizer.

The open form is titled “2026 MoHoHo Grinchmas Parade of Lights.” The organizer also confirmed a Saturday, December 5 step-off at 5 p.m., rain or shine. The City's public MoHoHo page independently lists staging at Mountain House High School, travel north on Central Parkway from near Mustang Way toward Main Street, tree lighting at 6 p.m. in Town Hall Plaza and a market from 6 to 9 p.m. in the Town Hall parking lot.

No parade end time, entry fee or Mountain House Live entry was stated. The 6 p.m. time belongs to the separately listed tree lighting and is not treated as the end of the parade. Prospective entrants should read the form and current organizer instructions before submitting.

MHHS lists a second “Greatest Show” performance tonight

The CTE dance pathway and Synergy Dance Team schedule their Friday performance for 6:30 p.m. in the MHHS Theater.

Illustrative photograph. Wellington Cunha / Pexels License

Mountain House High School's official news page lists the CTE dance pathway and Synergy Dance Team production “The Greatest Show” for a second performance at 6:30 p.m. tonight in the MHHS Theater. Thursday's first performance has elapsed and remains an archived occurrence; this item covers the separately dated Friday show.

The announcement establishes the date, time and presenting school groups. It does not establish ticket availability, remaining seating, attendance or that the performance will proceed without a same-day change.

Families and patrons should use the school's live notice or box-office instructions for current ticket, accessibility and venue details. The stage photograph is contextual and does not show the MHHS cast, theater or production.

The official MHHS calendar lists boys basketball at the Cornerstone Tournament today for junior varsity and varsity. The entry marks the time and location as TBA, so this edition does not invent a gym, opponent, admission rule or start time.

A tournament listing can change after brackets, travel and facility assignments are finalized. It is not evidence that a particular game occurred or that a team advanced.

Players, families and spectators should use direct team or school communication for the current bracket and location. The basketball photograph is illustrative and does not show MHHS athletes or the tournament.

Mountain House High School lists boys soccer at Weston Ranch today, with the combined junior-varsity and varsity window shown as 5 to 9 p.m. The calendar identifies Weston Ranch High School at 4606 McCuen Avenue in Stockton.

The entry is a schedule notice, not a score, travel guarantee or confirmation that both games will start exactly at the ends of the displayed window. Weather, field conditions and school decisions can change athletics schedules.

Spectators should check the current school calendar and athletics communication for level-specific start times, field access and admission. The soccer photograph is contextual and does not show either team.

The official MHHS calendar lists girls soccer at Kimball today for junior varsity and varsity, within a 5 to 9 p.m. event window. The listed destination is John C. Kimball High School at 3200 Jaguar Run in Tracy.

The listing confirms a planned away event, not a final score, transportation arrangement or unchanged kickoff. Athletics schedules can move because of weather, field conditions or school operations.

Families should use direct team communication for the correct level-specific start time and travel plan. The sports photograph is contextual and does not depict MHHS or Kimball players.

Altamont Elementary's official calendar lists today as the final day of parent-teacher conference week and shows 1 p.m. early release. The notice is a school-wide schedule record; it does not disclose any student's appointment or academic information.

Families should treat direct school and classroom communication as controlling for their appointment and pickup details. A calendar can be updated after retrieval, and this report does not infer attendance or a completed conference.

The classroom photograph is contextual and does not show Altamont staff, students or families. No private student record was used.

Caltrans moves the Route 4 full closure to December 6

Weather postponed the Tracy Boulevard-to-county-line closure previously planned for November 22.

Caltrans says the additional 12-hour full closure of State Route 4 from Tracy Boulevard to the San Joaquin to Contra Costa county line has been rescheduled to Sunday, December 6, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. The agency says the closure, required for the Old River Bridge maintenance project, had previously been scheduled for November 15 and then November 22.

The notice says local access will remain available for residents and businesses within the closure limits. Caltrans anticipates a marked detour and delays of approximately 30 to 40 minutes, while also warning that traffic, weather, equipment, materials or construction issues can change the schedule.

The highway photograph is illustrative and does not show Route 4, the Old River Bridge or current traffic conditions. Drivers should use QuickMap immediately before travel rather than treating this edition as a live traffic feed.

County extends its hyperscale data-center moratorium

Supervisors added 10 months and 15 days for environmental, economic and community review.

Illustrative photograph. Field Engineer / Pexels License

San Joaquin County says the Board of Supervisors extended its moratorium on land-use approvals for hyperscale data centers in the unincorporated county by 10 months and 15 days. The stated purpose is to allow a broader review of environmental and economic effects and gather community input before new approvals move forward.

The County describes potential electricity, water and infrastructure demands as questions for study, not settled findings about a specific proposed facility. Community Development is expected to review other jurisdictions, conduct outreach, assess resource needs and explore regulatory options with consultant support.

The County says a comprehensive report is expected in June 2027. An extended study period is not a permanent ban, project approval or finding that every data center has the same impact. The server-room photograph is contextual.

OpenAI describes an agent workflow for finding software regressions

The Performance Factory moves alerts through investigation, adversarial review, proposed fixes and post-deployment checks.

Illustrative photograph. Cottonbro Studio / Pexels License

OpenAI's engineering article describes the Performance Factory, an internal system that uses configurable task workflows, a dispatch loop, Codex cloud execution and event subscriptions to investigate and fix performance regressions. The company says its Regression Workflow creates a task from an alert, records evidence, proposes a change for engineer review and checks whether performance returns to baseline after deployment.

OpenAI reports that the workflow tracked more than 1,700 investigations and root-caused more than 600 cases in just over three months. Those are company-reported operational counts, not an independent audit. The article also says a manual review graded 70 percent of 100 root-cause suggestions as accurate, leaving 30 percent needing refinement or not fully establishing causality.

The described controls include adversarial review of diagnoses and proposed fixes, engineer review before merging and backtesting against historical incidents. The article explicitly says fixing regressions has been harder than identifying causes and discusses cases where proposed changes were too complex or introduced new issues. The computer-work photograph is contextual.

How this edition was made.

All 15 saved stories are included here. Their substantive reporting is retained. Repeated production and policy notes are collected on this page so each article can focus on the news.

Articles are original source summaries and local analysis. Source and event dates are shown with each story; a listing confirms a plan, not attendance, availability or completion. Check the responsible organizer before acting.

Story photographs are licensed contextual images. They illustrate a topic and do not show the reported Mountain House event or its participants unless explicitly identified. Photographer, source page and license records follow.
